

University of Arkansas – Fort Smith
5210 Grand Avenue
P. O. Box 3469
Fort Smith, AR 72913-3469
479-788-7000

General Syllabus

SPAN 4153 Topics in Literature

Credit Hours: 3

Lecture Hours: 3

Laboratory Hours: 0

Prerequisite: SPAN 3063 Advanced Composition

Effective Catalog: 2019-2020

I. Course Information

A. Catalog Description

Provides an in-depth exploration of a specific aspect of Spanish and/or Latin American literature. May be repeated when topics differ for a total of six hours.

B. Additional Information

This is a student-centered lecture course where students will be expected to participate actively not only as individuals but also in pair and group work. This course can be taken twice, as long as the topic is different.

II. Student Learning Outcomes

A. Subject Matter

Upon successful completion of this course, the student will be able to:

1. Discuss the aspect of Latin American or Spanish literature that the course explores.
2. Compare and contrast elements of Spanish and/or Latin American literature through oral communication.
3. Analyze the products, perspectives and practices revealed in the literature discussed.
4. Exhibit speed in reading and comprehension in the target language.
5. Employ MLA Style successfully in written essays and compositions.

B. University Learning Outcomes (ULOs)

This course enhances student abilities in the following areas:

Analytical SkillsCritical Thinking Skills

Students will identify problems/issues and develop solutions/analysis. Students will analyze a variety of texts for their rhetorical and/or literary features, as well as analyze the rhetorical situation to which the texts they produce respond.

Communication Skills (written and oral)

Students will communicate proficiently. Students will practice communication skills through discussions, presentations, and a variety of required written assignments.

Ethical Decision Making

Students will model ethical decision-making processes. Students will practice critical response to the writing of others, responsible use of research materials and intellectual property, and the ethical use of persuasion.

Global & Cultural Perspectives

Students will reflect upon cultural differences and their implications for interacting with people from cultures other than their own. Students will analyze the rhetorical situation, produce texts for a variety of audiences, and avoid the use of biased language.

III. Major Course Topics

This will vary depending on the literary topic. Topics can be organized geographically or thematically and should cover the following components:

- A. Historical context
- B. Contemporary aspects
- C. Comparative analysis
- D. Linguistic factors