I. Course InformationA. Catalog Description

Students must be employed or volunteer in a licensed childcare facility to apply the knowledge acquired and skills learned in previous coursework. Observation of the student's work and evaluation of student skills are conducted by instructors following the NAEYC Associate Standards. Students must demonstrate competency in all areas observed and complete a minimum number of clock hours, determined by the institution, of observation and work experience with children birth to five. At UAFS there will be 96 hours in a daycare or classroom. An emphasis will be on the observation of physical, cognitive, language, social, and emotional development in connection with previous courses. This class is taken in the student's final semester.
