Virtual Presentation

Finos Johnson
*Arkansas House
Parliamentarian*

Roy Ragland
Chief of Staff

What takes place during orientation sessions for newly elected members of the Arkansas House of Representatives? How are House traditions developed and kept? What kind of institutional relationships exist between the House of Representatives, the Senate, and the governor's office? Join the Arkansas House parliamentarian and chief of staff who will answer these questions and more in a virtual presentation on what takes place behind the scenes to get newly elected representatives ready for the job.
